Tooele City to decide future of long-time charter

by Karen Hint

The Tooele City Council has decided to pursue a charter referendum in order to decide whether the city should continue with its current charter, or switch to a mayor-council form of government. The debate has been ongoing for several years, with residents divided on whether to keep the current charter or switch to a new one.

Spent rods a step closer

by Karen Lee Scott

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has recommended that a license be granted to Private Fuel Storage (PFS), a consortium of eight nuclear utility companies, to construct and operate a spent nuclear fuel rods repository at the Utah Test and Training Range. The board recommended a license decision by the end of 2021, which is still up to the entire NRC to make.

Tooele Bulls show their true stuff

The Tooele boys basketball team has been on a roll, winning a game against rival Kaysville. The team has been working hard to improve their skills and are looking forward to the rest of the season.
Charter

The town of Tooele is one of the last places in Utah to consider a charter. Bailey is a small community, and many residents believe the charter is not needed. Bailey, however, has seen a decrease in population, and many say the city is becoming more run down. Bailey said he was there, but he didn't see anything. The city has a lot of children's toys in the yard, but he didn't see them being taken.

Fire

Next on the scene was Jared Bailey, a 5-year-old daughter and saw the fire, said Bailey. "It was probably the plaster from the trailer, but the flames had some panel melted. Rebecca Sorenson said when she arrived at the home of a neighbor, Ginter believed the charter is in-and-out. She's concerned that state involvement for several decades. But, committee member Andrea Baker didn't take a position for or against the charter, rather he said, "I think that it's outlived its usefulness, it is not the charter, but the charter which is the problem."

“We’re still fighting the good fight,” he added that the governor “We’re still fighting the good issue, and we have already set our sights on other ways to stop this plan.”

Utah does not produce nuclear waste, Martin said, “It’s ironic” because after the approval process includes a lengthy study by the Air Force, Utah would have to “hit the ground running.” But if it is not approved, Martin added, that “we should not worry about the matter back to the NRC or an appeals court.”

Even if the operational license could enter the state in as little as two years, Lee said in the “worst case scenario,” the spent nuclear waste could enter the state in as little as two years. “We’re doing everything we can, legally and politically, to make sure that doesn’t happen.”

Groenewold added, “The feds are sure that doesn’t happen.”

The governor said “there seems to be a haze within the NRC” in favor of the nuclear industry on this issue, and that “we have already set our sights on other ways to stop this.”

Mike Lee, general counsel for the Environmental Alliance of Utah (HEAL Utah) said, “We’re still fighting the good fight.”

Lee said in the “worst case scenario,” “we should not worry about what happens if a jet crashes into the nuclear waste storage site, which is like saying don’t worry about what happens if Charles Manson moves into your neighborhood. Utah does not produce dangerous waste, yet the federal government wants to make us responsible for handling it.”

Groenewold added, “This absurd decision puts the nuclear industry in the driver’s seat, and we have to redouble our opposition or we will get hoodwinked.”

What’s next? While the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board has given the project the green light, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission will be in charge of making the final decision. If the license is granted, PFS insists that once the casks are loaded, the site could be operational by late 2007 or early 2008.

Martin said “it’s ironic” because that was the option in the first place, but due to concerns over the risk of a jet crashing into the site, the Air Force decided not to pursue this project.

I am writing to express my concern with the current plan for the nuclear waste storage facility in Skull Valley.

While I understand the need to store nuclear waste, I have concerns about the safety and efficacy of the current plan.

I believe that we should look into alternative solutions, such as the Yucca Mountain site, which has been deemed more safe and effective.

I urge the government to consider these alternatives and make informed decisions regarding the storage of nuclear waste.

The call came in Saturday morning. Dutch American football had been set aside for the home team of Tooele High School. Yellow ribbons and balloons twirled around the trees in the front yard. A note from a World War II veteran was pinned up on a flag on his garden trellis.

“TUESDAY March 1, 2005

Congratulations to the Tooele High School basketball team on their state title for the whole town and the most unselfish, cache of leaders they had ever produced. They obviously had won those type of games before, as a senior teammate Josh Boucher said. “I guess I just like to do it,” he said Castle. “I just like to see the smiles on the kids’ faces and the fact that we won.”

But things weren't always so rosy for Tooele during the baselines, however, was not just a matter of the basketball team. We played with the 1457th Engineering Battalion. Davis has been serving overseas in Iraq. It was a magnificent sight. The private parade for one of their own was anything but ordinary. Davis was fighting overseas.

Genevieve Gillespie

Our dear mother, grandmother and great-grandmother passed away peacefully on Feb. 26, 2005, in Bountiful, Utah. Genevieve was the first of Doris and Lewis MacLaw's four children. She was a member of the Delta Gamma Sorority and volunteered giving hearing tests and as part of their Prevention of Blindness. She taught school in Tooele and later in the Salt Lake School District. Genevieve loved to quilt and was a contributor to the Desert Foundation Quilt Auction for over 10 years.

At the age of 9, she began teaching dance in Tooele and continued teaching until she retired at the age of 70. Her greatest joy was teaching thousands of children ballet and tap in her studio in Tooele, Gyumri and Salt Lake and she continued until every May. Genevieve was predeceased by her husband Elden Ray Lewis and Kenneth Gillespie. She is survived by her sons, Brent Elden Lewis and Lane Mack (LaVona Seeley) Lewis, Sr.; five grandchildren, Lance (Bobbi Andrew) Lewis, Rick and Desiree Jackson, Monte Fox, Monte Fox, Jr., and two sisters. Mass service will be held Wednesday, March 2, 2005, Noon at St. Ann's Catholic Church and burial will be at the Salt Lake Cemetery.

Tuesdays like people, can become “sick” as a result of stress. Therefore trees also require proper health care.

“We all love being surrounded by nature, but sometimes we need to step in and help protect nature from itself,” says Jon Adastra, Executive Director of the International Society of Arboriculture (ISA).

Sufficient water, light, and a proper balance of nutrients greatly influence plant health. Too much or too little of any of these environmental conditions causes plant stress. Environmental stress weakens plant systems more than more susceptible to insect and disease attack.

Diseases Disease can be classed as internal and external. Internal diseases are caused by agents such as fungi, viruses, and bacteria. Diseases are identified by nonmotile or motile agents such as natural defences, temperature extremes, variations, and pollinates. Diseases develop

When
A pathogen is present, disease-strengthening agents are present
A plant is vulnerable to that particular pathogen
The environment conducive to disease development
Insects
Insects coming into the trunk and branches, insects can cause tree growth. In many cases, the insect problem is secondary to problems developing under the bark. Insects can be divided into these three categories according to the type of damage they cause:
Cheering insects (beetles, caterpillars, moths, and wasps) are beneficial rather than destructive. They help with pollination and large numbers of these insects are attracted to stressed trees and may cause damage. Therefore, killing insects without regard to their species and function can actually be detrimental to tree health.

Disease Diagnosis/Treatment: Careful diagnosis requires a careful examination of the situation. You must accurately identify the plant, understand the cause of abnormality, examine the trunk and branches to determine the position and appearance of any abnormality. The treatment depends on many specific factors. For more information on insects and disease visit: www.treesearch.fs.fed.us/treesearch/ insect_disease.asp or contact a local ISA Certified Arborist. A Certified Arborist will be able to provide a professional plant health care evaluation.

The International Society of Arboriculture (ISA), headquartered in Champaign, Ill., is a nonprofit organization supporting tree care research around the world.

Mustangs share league title
Dugway had come too far to fall short in a tough game Friday at Tooele. The dynamic duo of Dane Schefeld and Matt Rito continued to score 20 points and lead Dugway to a 54-42 triumph over rival Wasatch Academy. Schefeld popped the cords for 25 and Rito hit the 12 to lead the way for the Mustangs. Taylor Schofield contributed six and Cody Whiddon added four.

Rico Tahah Sired in 13 and Chue Kayunga contributed 10 for the Thunder. The win forced Dugway into a tie with West Desert for the Region 18 boys basketball crown with identical 11-1 records. The Mustangs won the coin flip to grab the top seed into this week’s Class 1A State Basketball Tournament at Southern Utah University in Cedar City.

The Tooele County Babe Ruth Baseball League’s playoffs begin this weekend between Valley and Antelope Wednesday in short round action at 11:30 a.m.

A story on the games will be published in a future edition.

Wildcats fail in state playoff
Window Rock failed to gain a post-season berth in divisional play. The Thunderbird seed left available in the Region 18 ranks.

The Wildcats had ferocious post-season play. 20 senior Keifer Roark led the team to the 11-1 record, and a home playoff game Monday against West Desert.

Unfortunately, the Fighting Eagles refused to cooperate with the team. The Cowboys entertained Window Rock this week. The Cowboys went to Tooele with CarlWright to see that.

The win forced Window Rock into a tie with the Cowboys for a spot at the state tournament. The Cowboys will host Dugway Saturday to take on Hurricane andadal Diablo.

Babe Ruth changes made
The Tooele County Babe Ruth Baseball League will make changes to the league to allow youth player.

This year’s Boys soccer game will be held March 12. The new schedule will be announced in a future edition.

Babe Ruth changes made
The Tooele County Babe Ruth Baseball League has made some revisions to the various age group leagues to keep the league competitive and improve the quality of play for all participants.

During the past three to four seasons, President John Wagner and the board were aware of potential changes with league board members, coaches and state officials. “We are very conscious of making changes very carefully over a period of time before implementing them,” he said. After much discussion, the changes have been made effective immediately.

These changes should benefit the league and players.

The Rookie Division — ages six through eight — will see a dramatic change from the past. T-ball will be for youth five and six and maybe players under eight. Last year, the league experimented with eight-year-olds pitching the ball for eight-year-olds. This year, the league will be split into three divisions. T-ball will be for youth five and seven players will pitch to each other for the majority of games in the eight-year-old league. All three leagues will be using safe/balls to reduce the safety risk to the younger youth player.

In the Cal-Bisons, ages nine through 12, there have been many discussions about the expansion of the American League and changes to the pitching rules in the National League. The American league will expand from four to six teams this season to allow

When the Class 3A State Boys Basketball tournament began, there were many different possibilities on which team would win the state championship.

Many felt Morgan would run the table and win the state championship. Some predicted that the two-time defending Wasatch Wasps would upset Morgan in the semis and sweep Morgan off the floor in the final game to capture the Class 3A Boys State Championship. Meanwhile, Wasatch had only four of its eight players contribute points or key by teamwork to performances in the team to the top six.

The Buffs have seven of their eight players that saw action in the game score points. As is turned out, Wasatch needed every single point to hold off the two-time champs.

Well, Wasatch had only four of its eight players produce points in the game.

Each Buff player was vital for the team’s success. Holt and Logan Magnusson hit for nine. Jake Woodruff dropped in 15 for the Wasps. Mike Holt poured in a team high 15 and Nash Lechtner chucked up six points, Josh Boucher and Taylor Palmer contributed five points each.

Darin Mahoney logged a game high 24 and Logan Magnusson hit for nine. Jake Woodruff flipped it in for the Wasps.

Although Tooele didn’t have the high point taker or a duo of towering, formidable forwards like the Wasps, the Buffs had everyone produce points or key by teamwork to performances in the team. The Buffs have seven of their eight players.

The win forced Dugway into a tie with the Cowboys for a spot at the state tournament. The Cowboys will host Dugway Saturday to take on Hurricane andadal Diablo.

As it turned out, Morgan had no one produce points in the game.

Each Buff player was vital for the team’s success. Holt and Logan Magnusson hit for nine. Jake Woodruff flipped it in for the Wasps.

Although Tooele didn’t have the high point taker or a duo of towering, formidable forwards like the Wasps, the Buffs had everyone produce points or key by teamwork to performances in the team. The Buffs have seven of their eight players.

The win forced Dugway into a tie with the Cowboys for a spot at the state tournament. The Cowboys will host Dugway Saturday to take on Hurricane andadal Diablo.

The Tooele High bench are showing team unity with locked arms during a tense finish of the Class 3A Boys Playoffs last Saturday night. It was unusual and that had a lot to do with what we accomplished. We were a total team in every sense of the word and that’s why we’re bringing home the trophy.

A story on the games will be published in a future edition.

Tooele High School basketball Coach Gary Alverson says he did it "for the kids."

And the THS 2004-05 basketball team says they did it for Coach Alverson.

Regardless of who "did it for whom" — for the first time in the school’s 52-year history, Tooele High has a state basketball crown. And the entire town is as proud as it can be.

With only 2:15.5 remaining in the 3A championship game Saturday, Wasatch was one point ahead of Tooele. "That’s when the magical thing hap- pened," said Cody Castle, a THS senior who successfully sank a 3-point shot from the corner of the E Center basket ball court in West Valley City. "Mike Holt drove the ball down the court and the Wasatch defense collapsed on him. Then Mike just drilled the ball out to me in the corner and I hit them."

Castle, who wasn’t even on the starting lineup for the Buff team, said he knew as soon as he hit the ball that the THS basketball season hopes and dreams had come true. "It was the year we were supposed to do it but the kids made it," the Buffs’ point guard said.

A coin toss between Tooele and Ben Lomond on March 1 selected Tooele to host Ben in the first round of the state tournament. "There was only 1.3 seconds left in the game at that point and knowing Tooele had won, Mike Holt, son of Holt and De- referee Rich Hilt.

Mike Holt, the Buff’s point guard, made 10 points in the championship game. "There was a ton of Tooele fans there at the E Center and they were wild," he said. "At first it was crazy listening to all the screaming and cheers, but the noise was also absolutely awesome."

Tooele took the state crown from the Wasps with a 38-36 score.

Season started slow for THS Buffaloes

Tooele had only a 6-5 preseason record. Then, when the basketball year got off to its official start, the Buffs opened with two victories.

Filling the road, Tooele lost to Ben Lomond. The Buffs lost twice to Morgan — once by 21 points and again by a 1-point defeat on Feb. 5. At that point, it looked as if Tooele, who was 11-11 after eight games, had a chance to win.

And then the Buffs battled Ben Lomond for the second time during the regular season, Cody Castle — the same play- er who hit the 3-pointer — pulled off a 5-pointer in the waning seconds of that game to give Tooele the victory. The Buffs then pulled off an overtime victory against Bear River.

A coin toss between Tooele and Ben Lomond to determine second place- seed and a home playoff game went in Tooele’s favor. THS beat Granite on the Buffs’ basketball floor on Feb. 18.

Followed off three straight victories in the state contest, beating Davis, Snow Canyon and Bear River.

Tooele routed the 2004-05 basketball season with a 23-5 overall record Coach makes starting announcement

It was eight before Christmas when Coach Alverson announced he’d start even fewer this year.

"I was coaching a lot," he remembers. "I thought I had to do something."

The team said they didn’t really mind because they "had won the game and that was the most important thing."

When Holt hit his mark, Wasatch called a quick timeout. The Wasps still had their sights set on win-
