A hundred firefighters from six fire departments responded to a report of a wildfire in Stockton. The blaze, which spread quickly due to the summer's heat and further fueled by high winds, threatened to burn down Stockton's main water tank and destroyed 120 homes in Stockton.

City, Overlake sign deal to end lawsuit

A 12-year legal battle that cost Tooele City over $5 million came to an end in August when the city signed an out-of-court settlement with Overlake developers.

Wildfire threatens to burn down Stockton

A fire allegedly set by a former volunteer firefighter threatened homes in Stockton and destroyed the town's main water tank in July, causing some residents to evacuate and to suffer lost wages for two months. On July 14, firefighters responded to a report of a wildfire on the east bench of town. A hundred firefighters from six local agencies — the Bureau of Land Management, North Tooele County Fire District, Rush Valley Fire Department, Stockton Volunteer Fire Department, Tooele, Emery County Fire Department, and Tooele County Sheriff’s Department — responded to the blaze, which spread quickly in grass and sagebrush dried by the summer's heat and further fueled by high winds.

Country Explosion concert brought in lots of new people, but...
Reverend Monsignor Matthew W. Wixted

Monsignor Matthew W. Wixted died at Saint Joseph Villa on Friday morning, Dec. 26, 1989. His last two assignments (27 C Street, Salt Lake City, UT 84115) for the Archdiocese of Salt Lake City were as Chaplain at Holy Cross Parish, Monticello; Immaculate Conception Parish, Coppermine; Notre Dame de Lorette Parish, Price; and the Cathedral of the Madeleine, Salt Lake City. He then served as Pastor of St. Paul of the Cross, Murray (70-78-19), and Administrator at St. Elizabeth, Bicknell (77-70-1). One of the assignments he enjoyed the most was as Chaplain of the House of Priests Mutual Benefit Society (211 S. 200 West, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Regional Medical Center) for priests in this Archdiocese. He also served as Chaplain for the Archdiocese of San Francisco from 1968. His last two assignments were an associate pastor at St. John Childs Parish, Midvale, and Religious Director of St. Margaretine Parish, Tooele, from 1980 to the present. He died from active service in November of 2014. Alice Wixted was his wife of 65 years. Matthew Wixted was known for his Irish sense of humor and his gener- osity and compassionate concern for those who knew him. As a priest he was more than just a minister and a friend. He had a paternal heart for all people. Matthew Wixted is survived by the Archdiocese of Salt Lake City, the Priests Mutual Benefit Society and his family. The family would especially like to thank and acknowledge the Villa staff and all of his eulogies. He leaves behind one son, Walter H. Wixted (England). He is also sur- vived by his wife, Alice Wixted; their two children, Robert and Thomas, and his extended family. He is survived by his four siblings and their families, as well as his nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his grandparents and great-grandparents and his nieces and nephews.

Alice Wixted (Quinn) Wadsworth

Alice Wixted died at her home at 3405 S. 3000 W., Salt Lake City, on Dec. 22, 2014. Alice was born in Salt Lake, Utah, on May 1, 1925 to Robert and Alice Elizabeth Wixted. Alice was a member of the First Baptist Church in Salt Lake City for many years at Tooele Pheonix Church. She was a member of the Meyer Supermarket in Salt Lake City, at Electrola in Holladay, and most recently at West Valley City (2006). Alice was a member of a The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She was married twice. Her first marriage was to Billie Cruickshank; and her second marriage was to Frank Penovich Jr. on Sept. 12, 1950. Burial will be on Monday, Jan. 5, 2015 at 10 a.m. at the Cathedral burial plot.

Edith Myrl Christopherson

On Christmas Day, Dec. 24, 2014, a woman became a little more kind, a little more gentle, as our eul- ogy. Edith Myrl Christopherson, passed away quietly and peacefully on Christmas morning. Edith, the daughter of John and Lura (Hawkins) Christopherson of Salt Lake City, was born on August 20, 1928. Edith is survived by her two children, Frank and Lisa; four grandchildren, John, Andrew, and Alice Van Hoosier, and Alex Christopherson; and her five brothers and their families. Edith is survived by her former home and even greater existence. Edith was born in Logan, Utah, on August 20, 1928. She was married on May 12, 1948 to Frank, 1981, and later joined him for all time and all eternity on May 30, 2003. Edith was loved for her many selfless acts of service to her family and friends and for the many kindnesses and comparisons that she shared with us. Our thoughts and benevolence are with her and her prayerful and unconditional love for Frank for having never having an unkind word. He was the quiet, reserved, and an eternal optimist. She was a faithful member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. She served as secretary for several years and was most successful at non-partisan seat on the county board of directors. She was an excellent first wife, mother, sister, and minister and always would be with us. She was fond of the local newspapers and their coverage of events in their parish. She was loved by all who knew her and was known to all who knew her.

Grantsville reloads, hires new boys basketball coach

by Tavin Stucki

Editor’s note: The following information was compiled from Transcript-Bulletin archives.

Chris Baker stepped down as Grantsville’s boys basketball coach last year after 14 seasons in the position. He was replaced by Garth Detweiler, who ended his first year in 2013-14 with an impressive 10-6 record and captured the Region 11 title before falling in the first round of the state tournament to eventual Class 3A state champion Cedar.

But for this year’s boys basketball season — Detweiler, Timmy Allen and Ethan Sorensen — last year was just the beginning.

“I think a team, most of us expect to take region, and a lot of us expect to take state,” Sandberg said. “I think we’re good enough to do that this year. We’re going to play as a team.

“You get a lot with being on that team, you get a lot. You get accountability, you get team experience. Last year was the past couple years, so that’s why it’s kind of our goal to bring tradition the past couple years, hasn’t had the best basketball as a team.

Grantsville — last year was just returning seniors — Dalton Detweiler said in August. “It was big for us. It’s a new kind of experience. It was just a battle-tested, having won them with little varsity experience to the Cowboy basketball tradition back.”

Harrison — last year was just returning seniors — Dalton Detweiler said in August. “It was big for us. It’s a new kind of experience. It was just a battle-tested, having won them with little varsity experience to the Cowboy basketball tradition back.”

After losing the opening three games, the Cowboys have built themselves a six-game winning streak and continue action this week in Region 11.

The Cowboys have eight wins in graduation, leaving in only two seniors: Ethan Sorensen and Timmy Allen. However, the five seniors during Battle High, having won more than 60 games at the freshmen, junior and senior-level.

“I think for the region to go through that, but we hope to get through that.”

POETRY

Ted Kooser
U.S. POET LAUREATE

‘Winter’

The sky is so dark that it might as well be night.

The light of the rising sun

is a deep, luminous blue.

The farm is quiet. The heifers are all close together

as though they need each other for comfort.

As I imagine the horses and the saddles and the bridles and the harnesses in the loft

and I hear the clatter

of the

hoofbeats and the whinnying, I realize that the land is

nowhere near so cold

as I imagined.

The

harsh

wind

is abating.

The

sky

is beginning to mildly clear.

The

sun

is beginning to rise.

I think it’s getting to be a better

day.

Horoscope by Eugenia Last

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You can’t do the same thing over and over again. Whatever you do, stay calm and focus on taking charge and doing what needs to be done.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Let your standards and drive your children. You will attract interest but also competition. Keep your emotions in check.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Don’t feel you have to make a drastic change because someone puts pressure on you. Bide your time and consider all your options.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You gather facts before making a decision. Take care of responsibilities and proceed with caution when dealing with related matters. Someone will be watching what you do. Stay calm and focus on taking charge and doing what needs to be done.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Hand over the active role and you will end up as the center of attention. Preserve a modest amount of self-control and watch what you put into play. An interesting job opportunity is apparent, but may not yet be the right opportunity for you. A new partner may enter your life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Be too quick to commit or sign a contract. Maintain your own self-respect and stay strong. The ideas you want to pursue in the near future are not right for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You gather facts before making an emotional rise out of you. If you want the active role you play, be too quick to commit or sign a contract.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Aren’t you just tired of working alone? Now is the time to consider joining forces with others. Meetings can go well provided you handle questions. Don’t let your immediate future control your actions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You can’t do the same thing over and over again. Whatever you do, stay calm and focus on taking charge and doing what needs to be done.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You will face complaints and mustn’t let anyone talk you out of what you want. You are doing what needs to be done. Take care of your responsibilities and stay strong.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are doing what needs to be done and it’s OK. You will face complaints and mustn’t let anyone talk you out of what you want. You are doing what needs to be done.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You do what you do to help others and add to your popularity. But don’t let anyone talk you out of what you want to do. It’s OK to be doing what needs to be done.

BOOKWORM

“Small Move, Big Change”

It’s that time of year when we flip the calendar page and wonder about ways to improve our lives. And yet, the vast majority of us will never follow through on our New Year’s resolutions. Perhaps, argues Caroline Arnold in “Small Move, Big Change,” it’s because we’re setting our sights too low. A huge飞跃 goal, like “lose weight” or “interact more” is intimidating and overwhelming, making it difficult to know where to begin. Instead, she advises committing to tiny goals that are specific, measurable and attainable. It can be surprisingly powerful. Arnold presents herself not as a guru, but as a fellow pilgrim on the self-improvement journey. Writing in a clear, friendly and accessible style, she shares copious examples of real-life situations translated into workable (and nononsense) microresolutions, alongside supportive quotes from experts both scientific and philosophic.

LEARNING to craft effective goals is a key to success. It’s a technique, but Anderson suggests it’s more than that: it’s calls out for a little self-searching.

Windows 8 offers several sign-in options

Scott Lindsay

Here are your options:

1. If your computer is on, but not running, you can select the Start button (the Windows logo) and it will bring you to the login screen. You will see a “login” button with your name (or “Guest”) and a “password” button.

2. If you are on the login screen, click “Add” and then type in your username and your Mac’s password (not your Microsoft account password). You will then need to select the correct account (includes numbers, letters and symbols). Click “Add” and then enter your password. You will see a description of your system. You should have a password for this computer, but if you don’t, you can create one at the login screen. You can also use your Microsoft account password to continue to the top-left.

3. Next, “Picture password” is a new option to sign in using your picture. This is a one-time process, but for others, sign-in security may be an inconvenience, so you may want to use another method.

4. “Accounts” and then click “Sign-in options” to reveal all your sign-in options. Then, “Change” and it should change your password. Most of the time, you should have a password for your computer, but if you don’t, you can create one at the login screen. You can also use your Microsoft account password to continue.

5. “Screen” and then you can see all the details. Close the window when you are done searching. You can see the service and repair options too. If your Mac is less than one year old, you may be eligible to join the AppleCare Protection Plan, which can save you the hassle of trying to troubleshoot your Mac. It’s divided into two components: OS X Yosemite and Macintosh Resources. You may find it helpful to follow the instructions on your manual and you can browse through the library of options by entering your password.

6. “Memory tab” on the top, you should have a password for your computer, but if you don’t, you can create one at the login screen. You can also use your Microsoft account password to continue.

7. “Microsoft account password” to sign in to our computer, you will have the option to sign in using your Microsoft account password. We'll always have Washington

By Fred Groves

THURSDAY January 1, 2015

It's a good bet that if you were a fan of the television series "House of Cards," you would have recognized the photo that accompanied the article on page 15. The photo showed actor Kevin Spacey, portraying the character Frank Underwood, standing in front of the Lincoln Memorial.

The photo was taken by Mark Vasto, a veteran sports photographer who has worked for the Washington Post for more than 20 years. Vasto is known for his work documenting the history of the city and its people.

"It was a great honor to be able to capture that moment," Vasto said. "I've been covering sports in Washington for more than 30 years, and it's always special to be able to photograph a landmark like the Lincoln Memorial."

Vasto's photo was just one of the many that appeared in the "Washington Post" last week, showcasing the city's rich history and culture.

Use cash to change spending habits

By David Uffington

THURSDAY January 1, 2015

When you're trying to scale back on spending, keeping cash around can be an incentive to continue. This is especially true when you're trying to get to medical appointments.

You might be wondering how cash can help with your health care goals. Here are a few ideas:

1. Use cash to change habits

Cash can help you keep up with your spending habits. If you've been trying to cut down on spending, keeping cash around can be a visual reminder to yourself that you're making progress.

2. Use cash to remind yourself of your goals

If you're trying to save money for a particular goal, keep cash around as a visual reminder of your progress. Seeing the cash you've set aside can motivate you to continue on your path.

3. Use cash totrack your progress

If you've been tracking your spending, use cash to track your progress. This can help you see how far you've come and motivate you to continue on your path.

4. Use cash to motivate yourself

If you're trying to motivate yourself to continue on your path, use cash as a tangible reminder of your progress. Seeing the cash you've set aside can give you the motivation you need to keep going.

The key is to make sure you're keeping cash near you and using it as a visual reminder of your goals. This can help you stay on track and make progress on your health care goals.

To learn more about using cash to change spending habits, read the article by David Uffington, "Use cash to change spending habits: Dollars and sense by David Uffington." The article can be found on page 6 of this issue of the "Washington Post."
