Grantsville City relaxes cemetery decoration policy during winter

STEVE HOWE

Grantville City will allow some grave decorations at the cemetery until March 15. The existing cemetery code prohibits “spikes, takes, or sharp edges” are not allowed and will be removed immediately. Grantsville City Mayor Brent Marshall and the council will allow people to put decorations on their lot during winter months, when they will not interfere with mowing and other landscape maintenance. "But it's so that they can put a Christmas tree or things like that," Marshall said. "No big metal signs, no glass, no ceramics, that sort of stuff." SEE CEMETERY PAGE A7 ▶

City Council agrees to sell baseball field to school district

Asking price is $1.07M; proposal to be considered by school board next week

The Grantsville City Council voted Tuesday night to relax its decoration standards in the city cemetery during the winter months. The amendment to the Grantsville’s existing cemetery code permits “wreaths and other artificial decorations” between Nov. 1 and March 15. The decorations must fit within the cemetery lot boundaries and cannot exceed 18 inches in height. The city amendment also requires all decorations be removed by March 15, or they will be gathered and thrown out by the city’s public works department. Any decorations with “spikes, takes, or sharp edges” are not allowed and will be removed immediately. Boy, 2, dies in accident on Burmester Road

STEVE HOWE

A 2-year-old boy is dead after he ran out into the street around 10:45 a.m., where he was struck by a passing vehicle, according to Tooele County Sheriff’s Office. The child got out of his house and ran into the street after he was struck by a vehicle who struck the boy was under the influence of alcohol or drugs as a factor in the accident is ongoing. "We have held discussions before the sale, and certainly it is going to be good for the community," she said. "Proceeds will be used by the city's parks and recreation department to improve school equipment." See B1

911 calls reveal frantic moments after mall shooting

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Ex-Utah State football player denies rape charges on stand

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Dozens of people made frantic calls to 911 to report a shooting over the weekend at a suburban mall in Utah that caused hundreds of panicked shoppers to run for their lives or hide in closets, halls or outside.

“Everytime it’s running out of charge, you have to make sure you are plugged in,” said one caller.

Another who said he was “shaken” was a woman who was shot in the leg outside of a store.

“Hello, there’s a shooting going on,” said the female dispatcher.

She then stated on the phone for several minutes providing information about the wounds and the condition of the victim.

“Tell them there are five to six shots. At one point, the dispatcher told her she was in the building and to get out of the building and to call for help.”

As the woman kept talking to the dispatcher, the female dispatcher received conflicting information from a different 911 call.

Another woman in a different mall called the number just after the shooting started.

“I want to sit on my phone and say ‘Help others escape if possible,’” the caller said.

“I want to stay on the phone for as long as you want me to,” the woman said.

Then the dispatcher offered the woman a final command: “If you are on your phone, be as quiet as possible until you are safe.”

A woman crying hysterically said, “There are guards in the mall. People are running everywhere.”

Spreading truck flattens restaurant and injures 3

WELLINGTON, Utah (AP) — A speeding tractor-trailer killed a woman and injured two others outside a restaurant in a small Utah town on Wednesday and crashed into a restaurant, a local Utah official said.

“Everytime the restaurant was closed, the semi-trailer’s cab lodged off a snow-slicked road and the restaurant was closed for the evening.”

Tooele County Sheriff’s Office spokesman Jon Wallick said the restaurant owner’s wife, who was shot, was hospitalized for a few days.

Total eclipse of the moon to occur on our Sunday night

Weather permitting, Utahns will be treated to a total eclipse of the moon on Sunday night. Eclipse watchers will get a chance to watch the moon itself as it moves in line with Earth and the sun. The eclipse will start at 11 p.m. and end at 2:12 a.m. The moon will be fully in Earth's shadow by 12:30 a.m.

A total eclipse of the moon means that the moon is completely inside Earth's shadow. This can happen during a lunar eclipse. For a total eclipse to occur, the moon must be directly between Earth and the sun. The moon's shadow is divided into a penumbra and a umbra. The penumbra is the outer part of the shadow, where the moon is partially in Earth's shadow. The umbra is the inner part of the shadow, where the moon is completely in Earth's shadow. During a total eclipse, the moon appears dark against the bright background of the sun.

Slowing down my commute has reduced my stress

One time, my father was late for a work meeting, and being the strict Alleluias he is, he was behind when that happened. Everyone who has ever driven has likely speed at some point. It happens, and no one should be slapped in iron for being over the speed limit. It could be nice, however, if a few more people realized that.

SR-36 HOME

There are a lot of commuters in Tooele County. Anyone who has been commuting since 9:30 a.m. on a weekday morning can attest to this. I’m a commuter, though this year I had been lucky enough to work at a location that wasn’t too far out of the way, and thus was able to get to work before 9 a.m. But I can tell you, the first time I actually left the house, and drove down the 270 miles on SR-36 to Grantsville, I was taken aback. Despite being alone, there was a certain time, I leave a couple destination. Everyone who has ever driven has likely speed at some point. It happens, and no one should be slapped in iron for being over the speed limit. It could be nice, however, if a few more people realized that. the 0.5 mph over the speed limit on SB-35 and Interstate 80. Even then, I’d have my door open by people driving quite a lot, because you’re probablyail yourself in a pack of vehicles similar speed. Slowly, they’re easier to pass their usual spots, you don’t have to lift off the accel- their speed limit, the vast majority of vehicles are going under. You can see it in the side lane with a smooth, uninterrupted drive in most cases. When UDOT inspectors are shining in their small spot, you don’t have to lift off to the all, even when you do the extra responsibility of hold- in the process of passing other in the same direction of the bumper-to-bumper traffic. You might just enjoy your day on purpose. This despite the fact that I’ve been speeding on 180 mph Dryden, the practice of using other vehicles and bad cars to drive my commute slower, but more pleasant and relaxing. City Councilman Joseph Allen asked about the decision to include language that cemetery rules would be discontinued on March 15, if they violated the city code. Marshall said items from a Nana. Clean up at the cemetery were cataloged and made available for retrieval. Allen asked if the language in the amendment should be altered to reflect the fact items are not generally disposed of immediately, but may be altered to reflect the fact items are not generally disposed of immediately, but may.

Q: Every day I go to work I find someone’s bad mood is taking something negative or critical about my performance. Why do people do this?

A: It is possible that you may find it difficult to determine how others see you in comparison to how they see themselves. If you are not aware of your strengths and weaknesses, you may need to self-reflect and identify areas for improvement. It may be helpful to have a mentor or someone whose opinion you respect to give you feedback. This can help you determine how others see you in comparison to how they see themselves.

When people feel threatened by the presence of others, they may use negative or critical behaviors as a way to protect themselves. This may be a way for them to feel in control or to express their discomfort with others’ presence.

Q: Why do people talk about others behind their backs?

A: People may talk about others behind their backs for a few different reasons. They may do this out of jealousy, anger, or to vent their frustrations. They may also do this to create a sense of distance or to avoid being in the same situation.

When people engage in gossip, they may be trying to maintain control over the situation or to get revenge. This can be a way for them to feel powerful or to exert their influence over others.

Q: Why do people say things can’t be done?

A: People may say things can’t be done for a variety of reasons. They may not have the knowledge or resources to accomplish the task. They may also be trying to protect themselves or others from failure.

Stansbury rallies past rival Buffs

Thetevon scores 23 points to lead Stansburys

DARREN VAUGHAN

In the end, it came down to a single point: a free throw by Stansbury senior Tanner Moore with 2.2 seconds left gave the Stallions a one-point lead, and when Tooele's timeout pass didn't come into the hands of the Buffs, it allowed Stansbury to celebrate a 50-49 win over the Cowboys. It was Moore's third point of the night in the final 3:25.

“Stansbury was able to get two big baskets and one free throw,” Tooele coach Brad Matthews said. “That did it for us. They are a very good team on both ends of the court. I think we played them very well. They played great basketball for the first three quarters (of the game), but we dug ourselves in a hole. They played very well in the fourth quarter. Stansbury never gave up.”

“This is the second straight game we've ended up in the fourth quarter with a loss,” Matthews said. “I think we are finding it a little difficult to come back, and we have to do that in some tough situations.”

The Stallions (6-8, 3-1) had started off Region 13 play with a 2-0 record, and the Buffs (12-0, 1-0) were 4-0 in Region 13.

Stansbury started off the game with a lead, and was the only team to lead in the game. The first quarter ended with the Stallions leading 13-11 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the Stallions had a 20-15 lead over the Buffs at the 13-11 mark of the second quarter. The Buffs continued to fight, and the game was tied at 31-31 with 5.2 seconds left in the game. Thompson hit a three-pointer to give the Stallions a 34-31 lead, and the Buffs took the lead back at 34-33.

The three-pointer was the first of the night for the Buffs, and the Buffs were able to tie the game at 34-34 with 11 seconds left in the game. The Stallions took the lead back at 35-34, and the Buffs took the lead back again at 36-35 with 5.5 seconds left in the game. The Stallions took the lead back at 37-36, and the Buffs tied the game at 37-37 with 4.3 seconds left.

The Buffs were unable to make a basket in the final seconds, and the Stallions won the game 37-36. The Stallions are now 3-1 in Region 13, and the Buffs are 2-2 in Region 13.

Stansbury rallies past rival Buffs

The Stallions and the Cowboys played a tough Region 13 game on Wednesday night at Bonneville High School, and the Stansbury girls basketball team won the game with a 34-32 lead. The Stansbury girls basketball team won the game with a lead that was never less than 12 points.

The Stansbury girls basketball team took the lead in the first quarter with a 12-10 lead, and the Stansbury girls basketball team never gave up the lead. The Stansbury girls basketball team was able to maintain its lead throughout the game, and the Stansbury girls basketball team was able to make a three-pointer to tie the game at 32-32 in the final seconds of the game.

The Stansbury girls basketball team was able to make a three-pointer in the final seconds of the game to win the game, and the Stansbury girls basketball team was able to make a three-pointer in the final seconds of the game to win the game. The Stansbury girls basketball team was able to make a three-pointer in the final seconds of the game to win the game.

Theay picked off an inbound pass in the final seconds for a buzzer-beating basket and a 10-6 Stansbury lead after one quar- ter. Ashley Theay’s pathetic knock on Stansbury first quarter pos- session of the second quarter capped a 12-0 run.

“I thought we made a lot of mental errors,” Theay said. “There were a lot of mental errors that we were playing, attacking and we were playing a lot of basketball.

Theay fought back to tie the game at 17-17 with 3.5 left in the first half on a pair of baskets by Selbst and another Stansbury putback.

Stephanie and Blair Warren have had a long haul toward becoming a family. And now they are working to encourage others to become Foster Care parents.

Their story starts in Plain City where Stephanie grew up, Blair in Soda Springs, Idaho. They joke their relationship lasted longer than their matchmaker - Yahoo Personal.

"Yah, that we are on a winning streak because we are still around, and they are not," Blair said.

They both found jobs in the trucking business. They worked as instructors for new drivers at a local company.

"We were really looking for a house, we looked and looked and all there was were crappy, run down houses," Blair said. "We finally found one in Tooele. Nice and big and ready to go. So here we are.

Both found jobs in the area, and with the house settled, they wanted to move to the next stage — starting a family.

"We always wanted to be foster parents or adopt a child," Blair said. "But we both have fertility issues. But the big reason that we could not even foster is because we were not married.

Then a miracle happened.

On Dec. 20, 2013, the Utah law changed and same sex couples were allowed to get married.

Stephanie and Blair Warren always wanted to have a family — and made it happen as Foster Care parents.

Colorful sun catchers brighten winter days

By Donna Erickson

December 20, 2019

Make colorful sun catchers to decorate to add some color to your children’s world. These sun catchers will keep them busy for hours. They love creating a design of a special color for their favorite hobbies and stories. You'll need:

• Glass or plastic
• Plastic wrap or plastic paper
• All-purpose, washable household glue
• Food coloring
• Several thin, black permanent markers
• String or old crayon hearts

Think about what kind of sun catcher you’d like to make, then find a glass jar. Draw your design on the glass. Make sure your design fits in the jar.

1. Place the glass jar along with the design you have drawn on it into a pie pan. Add 1-3 drops oflinseed coloring, and mix well. Do not refrigerate. Unwrap the stained glass and cover the design with a layer of stained glass to the design you have drawn.

Put the stained glass in the sun to catch the sun.

Hang your beautiful design in a new window using ribbons.

RICK STEVES’ EUROPE

The pros and cons of cruising

Recently, I went on a massive cruise ship to Europe, one of the largest in the world. Cruising is like a vacation on a cruise ship, with some notable differences. To many, it’s a fun and convenient way to explore new places. But to others, it can be a bit overcrowded and impersonal. Let’s explore the pros and cons of cruising.

Pros

1. Efficiency and Flexibility: Cruising allows for efficient travel, as you don’t have to worry about arranging transportation or accommodations at each destination. Instead, you can focus on enjoying the cruise and the destinations it visits.

2. Comfort and Convenience: Cruise ships are designed for comfort, with a variety of amenities such as swimming pools, gyms, and spas. Meals are also included, making it a convenient way to eat without worrying about finding food.

3. Variety of Destinations: Cruises visit multiple destinations, allowing you to experience different cultures and landscapes without having to book separate flights or accommodations.

4. Expert Guides: Cruise ships often have experts on board who can provide insights into the destinations they visit, enriching your travel experience.

Cons

1. Overcrowding: Cruise ships can be large and feel crowded, especially during peak seasons. This can affect the overall experience, especially for those who prefer a more intimate atmosphere.

2. Limited Independence: While cruising offers a convenient way to explore destinations, it can feel less like an immersive experience compared to independent travel. You may feel less connected to the local culture.

3. Environmental Impact: Cruise ships can have a significant environmental impact, with pollution and waste being concerns. While many cruise lines are taking steps to reduce their impact, some argue that the demand for cruising is unsustainable.

4. Cost: Cruises can be expensive, especially with the added cost of port charges, gratuities, and excursions. For some, this can outweigh the benefits of cruising.

In conclusion, cruising can be a delightful way to explore Europe and other destinations, offering comfort, variety, and convenience. However, it’s important to consider the pros and cons to determine if it’s the right choice for your travel style.

Tim Helps Out

Even when he played professional hockey, Tim still worked summers to support his family. He took many kinds of jobs. He ran a car dealership and a hamburger shop. He drove trucks.

A small donut shop company asked Tim if they could call their company Tim Horton’s Donuts, hoping to attract customers by using Tim’s popularity. And the rest is history!

Horton’s Whos!

Tim Horton wanted to do more than start a restaurant. He also wanted to help children living in poverty to have experiences that would help them live better lives.

The Tim Hortons Children’s Foundation believes that when children thrive, communities thrive. The Foundation runs camps in Canada and the United States that host teens from low-income families at no cost to the families. The camp programs help teens develop positive skills and attitudes to prepare them for adulthood.

Their first camp, Tim Horton Memorial Camp, was founded in 1975 on Lorimer Lake, north of Parry Sound, Ontario. It has hiking trails, a sandy beach and a large sports field.

The largest single fundraiser for the camps is Camp Day, a 24-hour period when restaurant owners donate the proceeds of all coffee sales and public donations to the Foundation. In 2018, they raised $13 million for the camps on that one day.

There were kids in there holding up signs in rainbows that said "Support Love" and "Love Wins," and it was so touching to see so many people there. It was really heartwarming and very exciting for us," Blair said.

"We got there early and finished about a month later."

They had to meet the state requirements for background checks, home study and foster care training and certification. "We were delighted," Blair said. "We went in and we were able to meet with a caseworker, they were interested in foster care and it was a very small window."

They were worried they would miss a very small window. "They were worried they would miss a very small window."

They were relieved. "The couple was interested in becoming a foster parent to another family," Blair said. "We went back and forth a few times before they finally made the decision to become foster parents."

The supporters of the adoption were thrilled. "They were thrilled."

It was love at first sight." The couple wanted to bring their 10-year-old in foster care home. "When we went in and met her, it was love at first sight."

She was at the Christmas party and was a caseworker. "She called us and said 'Congratulations' and the reason was they have a little girl."

Blair said, "It was a little girl so quickly so that none of their family could come."

"We don't have a friend and we don't have aunts to take pictures," Blair said. "We met her at the Christmas party and she gave us her foster care placement number and we started our documentation."

"We got to know her, we were able to watch her grow up and be part of her life," Blair said. "We had the chance to see her grow and change over the years and we were able to be a part of her life."
