Editor

Tooele County has entered the moderate level of the Governor and Utah Department of Health’s COVID-19 transmision index. The level was reassigned on Wednesday, April 15, according to IMC.

Counselor-Businesswoman Meloki Gohir cited the alternate transportation methods that were included in the plan: “I love the part of the plan along bike trails and the bike lanes,” said Gohir. “I am a recreational bike rider. I like the wider bike lanes and I think it will keep our healthy population that we need to promote in the city. We are really pleased to see this come up.”

Transportation

Tooele City will close the InstaCare on April 15. IMC directs patients in the Tooele area to their InstaCare near downtown Salt Lake City, Intermountain has 25 other locations throughout the state. Tooele (left) gets closed at the Tooele InstaCare on Main Street.

Government

Govenor Cox issues drought emergency declaration

90% of state in extreme drought

TIM GILLIE

Despite last winter storms, Gov Spencer Cox issued an executive order on Wednesday, March 18, 2021, declaring a state of drought emergency in Utah due to drought conditions.

“We’ve been monitoring drought conditions carefully and had hoped to see significant improvement from winter storms,” said Cox. “Unfortunately, we have not received enough snow to offset the dry conditions. I ask Utahns to evaluate their water use and find ways to reduce it not only because of current drought conditions but also because we see in one of the dryer years in the nation.”

The declaration allows drought-affected communities, agricultural producers and others officially begins the process that may provide access in the future to federal emergency resources.

With 100% of the state in an extreme drought category and 90% of the state experiencing drought, the state’s Drought Review and Reporting Committee, during its March 15 meeting, recommended the governor issue the drought declaration, which triggers the Drought Response Governor’s Committee, the Utah Department of Natural Resources, chairs both committees.

Following a recent dry summer and fall, this winter’s accumulation is about 70% of average for the year. For snowpack to reach average, Utah’s mountains would need to receive the remaining 30% before it starts to melt significantly, typically the first week in April. There is around a 50% chance of this occurring, according to state officials.

Current soil moisture is at the lowest levels since monitoring began in 2006.

“Extremely dry soil means when we do receive precipitiation, the ground will soak it up and reduce the risk that typically fill reservoirs, lakes and rivers,” said state officials. The current plan is to fill reservoirs and consider ways they can use water and help to part of the plan.

Sports

Buffs’ ballgame

High hopes for Tooele County's baseball team

TIM GILLIE

Intermountain Healthcare announced their Tooele InstaCare on Main Street in Tooele City will close on April 15.

Obituaries

Say goodbye to Tooele InstaCare

Decrease in volume, increase in virtual visits blamed for 9-year-old facility closing

TIM GILLIE

Intermountain Healthcare announced on Wednesday, March 17, 2021, that they will close the Tooele InstaCare on April 15. The health care company cites a decrease in patient volume and an increase in virtual visits as the reason for the closure.

“The decrease in urgent care patient volume over the last few years and increasing use of virtual visit options, like Connect Care, the Intermountain Tooele InstaCare will close at the end of day April 15,”reads a press release from IMC issued Wednesday morning.

The release reflects a continuing ability in consumer preference toward using digital and virtual options for primary care and uncomplicated urgent care, according to IMC officials.

IMC directs patients in the Tooele area to their InstaCare facilities in West Valley City or near downtown Salt Lake City, in their press release.

Intermountain will open a "same-day primary care" clinic at Tooele County Memorial Hospital in Tooele for walk-in patients. It will be open Saturday and Sunday from 9 am – 5 pm beginning approximately April 17, according to IMC.

Intermountain has 25 other locations throughout the state.
COVID-19 pandemic and mental health

Report shows no increase in suicides, mental distress, or drug overdoses, but health officials are still concerned

CHALLEY SUTTON

A recent report from the Utah Department of Health shows no increase in suicide, mental distress or drug overdose deaths in Utah from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has been responsible for increased stress, health and substance abuse disorders for many people.

“The pandemic has increased stressors and challenges, yet the report shows 13,644 reductions in suicide attempts,” said Dr. Scott Spencer, Cox. “Despite these difficult times, there is hope. We are not to the position where the numbers are overwhelming.”

The report shows that deaths from drug overdoses remained stable in Utah and Tooele County throughout 2020.

One key finding of the report included no significant difference in the rate of Utah adults reporting frequent mental distress or drug use from 2019 to 2020, the study period.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Other key findings of the report included:

- The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.
- There was an increase in pharmaceutical use.
- Despite suicide rates continuing to rise across the country, such as in Tooele County, state and local governments have remained consistent in their support of those in need.

The Utah Department of Health shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.

“Data indicates that increases in mental health care and support during the pandemic have helped to reduce suicide attempts, such as in previous years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial rise in COVID-19 deaths,” said Cox. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has increased stressors and challenges for many people.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.

COVID-19 pandemic and mental health

Report shows no increase in suicides, mental distress, or drug overdoses, but health officials are still concerned

CHALLEY SUTTON

A recent report from the Utah Department of Health shows no increase in suicide, mental distress or drug overdose deaths in Utah from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has been responsible for increased stress, health and substance abuse disorders for many people.

“The pandemic has increased stressors and challenges, yet the report shows 13,644 reductions in suicide attempts,” said Dr. Scott Spencer, Cox. “Despite these difficult times, there is hope. We are not to the position where the numbers are overwhelming.”

The report shows that deaths from drug overdoses remained stable in Utah and Tooele County throughout 2020.

One key finding of the report included no significant difference in the rate of Utah adults reporting frequent mental distress or drug use from 2019 to 2020, the study period.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Other key findings of the report included:

- The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.
- There was an increase in pharmaceutical use.
- Despite suicide rates continuing to rise across the country, such as in Tooele County, state and local governments have remained consistent in their support of those in need.

The Utah Department of Health shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.

“Data indicates that increases in mental health care and support during the pandemic have helped to reduce suicide attempts, such as in previous years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths,” said Cox. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has increased stressors and challenges for many people.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.

COVID-19 pandemic and mental health

Report shows no increase in suicides, mental distress, or drug overdoses, but health officials are still concerned

CHALLEY SUTTON

A recent report from the Utah Department of Health shows no increase in suicide, mental distress or drug overdose deaths in Utah from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has been responsible for increased stress, health and substance abuse disorders for many people.

“The pandemic has increased stressors and challenges, yet the report shows 13,644 reductions in suicide attempts,” said Dr. Scott Spencer, Cox. “Despite these difficult times, there is hope. We are not to the position where the numbers are overwhelming.”

The report shows that deaths from drug overdoses remained stable in Utah and Tooele County throughout 2020.

One key finding of the report included no significant difference in the rate of Utah adults reporting frequent mental distress or drug use from 2019 to 2020, the study period.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Other key findings of the report included:

- The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.
- There was an increase in pharmaceutical use.
- Despite suicide rates continuing to rise across the country, such as in Tooele County, state and local governments have remained consistent in their support of those in need.

The Utah Department of Health shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.

“Data indicates that increases in mental health care and support during the pandemic have helped to reduce suicide attempts, such as in previous years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths,” said Cox. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

Utah health experts believe the pandemic has increased stressors and challenges for many people.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.

“Despite the pandemic, Utahns are resilient,” said Gov. Spencer. “The state’s existing mental health and substance abuse treatment infrastructure have helped support us all during these challenging times.”

“We have seen consistent declines in suicide rates in Utah since 2013,” said Dr. Spencer. “This report shows this is consistent with other years, even in the face of a sudden and substantial increase in COVID-19 deaths.”

There were increases in mental and substance abuse treatment, but this was consistent with data from previous years.

The Utah Department of Health conducted this analysis as part of their work to track the state’s progress in reducing suicide, mental distress, or drug overdose deaths.
If Cox signs the bill, Utah will become the first state to mandate that all children and adults in the state automatically block pornography in a plan that critics cast as a significant intrusion on free speech.

Supporters and critics alike are now waiting to find out if Gov. Spencer Cox, a Republican, will sign off on a proposal that the GOP-controlled Legislature passed this month.

Cox hasn’t indicated publicly which way he’s leaning. His spokesman, James Naper-Pearce, said only in an email that the governor will “carefully consider” the bill during the full veto period.” He has until Wednesday to act.

Supporters argue the restrictions are needed to help prevent kids from coming across explicit content and to help ensure more children have their own electronic devices and have been forced to spend more time online during the pandemic.

But critics say the law is a potentially onerous on the First Amendment.

Lee’s Grinder’s

Lee’s Grinder’s

Top Dollar

For Trade-ins

Call 435.882.7711 for Appointment

www.bargainbuggs.com

Check Out All Vehicles and Get Pre Approved

Need Help on the Phone?

Call 435.882.7711

Bargain Buggs

all Cars are BlueS
In 1946, Grantsville High School wins state basketball championship

The Tooele Transcript
302 S. 7th Ave.
Tooele, UT 84074

Tooele/Grantsville area was Depot’s industrial complex and the reuse of the Tooele Army officials in Washington D.C over the CMF was “premature.” The company would be taking occurred during the third week local front-page news from 25, 50, 75, 100, or 125 years ago. To see a complete list, search for “Flashback” in the full Tooele Transcript archives.

March 18, 1921

March 19–21, 1996

Gov. Mike Leavitt met with the district superintendents of each school in the Tooele School District to discuss the upcoming legislature sessions. The program of work was under the supervision of the county commissioners and they had examined the state’s procedures: the state is to carry out the duties of the county in their respective districts. Correspondent Mark Winston compiled this report.

March 19, 1921

Tooele County law enforcement officers were investigating the Tooele High School after a robbery had been reported on the school.

March 20–24, 1940

Tooele County was jubilant and especially Grantsville over the winning of the State Basketball Tournament by Grantsville High School yesterday evening in Salt Lake City over American Fork. Time before during the reason, the committee made the reso- nate, that the one point that brought them the championship Saturday against American Fork, 38–36.

Thursday March 18, 2021

Tooele County law enforcement officers were investigating the Tooele High School after a robbery had been reported on the school.

Tooele/Grantsville No. 45 on America’s 50 hottest little towns. The magazine said the town of this size.

The Tooele Transcript
302 S. 7th Ave.
Tooele, UT 84074

Tooele/Grantsville No. 45 on America’s 50 hottest little towns. The magazine said the town of this size.

March 18, 1921

An easy online appointment registration: Birch Family Xrays

COVID-19 can still spread even if you are vaccinated and not experiencing symptoms. The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.

COVID-19 vamp:-

Shallow nasal swab from the comfort and safety of your vehicle.

The Birch Family Xray is committed to the health and safety of our patients and expects all patients to wear masks when visiting the office.
OBITUARIES

Sharron Nell Bevan Perkins

Sharron Nell Bevan Perkins passed away March 12, 2021, after a valiant battle with cancer.

Sharron was born Oct. 9, 1940, in Provo, Utah, to James Amos Bevan and Lucille Kennedy Bevan. She was the youngest of six children and was raised in Grantsville, Utah. Sharron considered her siblings some of her greatest blessings. She loved to spend time with them and was fiercely loyal to her family.

She grew up in Tooele on the family dairy farm and was always proud of her roots and the family dairy farm and was fiercely loyal to her family.

She attended Tooele High School, where she graduated. She was a member of the National Honor Society and was a key member of the football and baseball teams.

She continued her education at Utah State University where she graduated in 1962.

Sharron was a loving mother of four sons and two daughters and was fiercely loyal to her family.

She was the loving mother of four sons and two daughters.

She was a loving mother of four sons and two daughters and was fiercely loyal to her family.

She passed away March 12, 2021, at 1050 W. Erda Way. So a viewing will be held prior to the funeral from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., at the LDS chapel, 550 E. Durfee St., Grantsville, Utah. A viewing will be held prior to the funeral from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., at the LDS chapel, 550 E. Durfee St., Grantsville, Utah. The funeral service will be held on March 20, 2021, at 10 a.m., at Utah Veterans Cemetery and Memorial Park, Grantsville, Utah.

She was preceded by her father, mother, and stepson, Joseph Festa.

She leaves her husband Robert Perkins, husband of 46 years; sons, Michael (Elisa); 20 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Theodore Richard Everette Jr.

Theodore Richard Everette Jr. was born in Bondbloch, Pennsylvania, May 26, 1930, to Theodore Everette and Elisa (Bower) Festa. He passed away peacefully at home with his family at his home at North March 15, 2021, at the age of 70. Ted had a strong faith, loved his family and was a fighter and although his battle was not a victory, his strength and courage made him a hero.

Ted was an active member of the Sunshine Moose Lodge, the Holyoke Elks, and the Holyoke American Legion. He enjoyed riding his collection of Harley Davidson and had been a member and past commander of the Tooele American Legion Post 99.

Ted was a loving son to Elisa (Bower) Festa and Marion Frederick Beaver. He was predeceased by his siblings Robert and Maureen, Eleanor, Elisa, Donald, Robert, and Don Edward.

In our lives, there have been moments that can steal a heartache no one can heal. You are loved and will be missed. She is survived by her mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother, and great-great-great-grandmother.

Eunice Lillian Stockman

Eunice Lillian Stockman, a 99-year-old pioneer woman, died March 12, 2021, in Bondbloch, Pennsylvania, at home in Grantsville, Utah. She had lived in Grantsville for nearly 70 years and was a member of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

She was born Oct. 12, 1930, in Grantsville, Utah, to Harvey L. Naylor and Susan A. Naylor. Eunice was the oldest of six children. She was married and made their home in Grantsville. Eventually they moved to Salt Lake City in 1987.

Eunice was an avid and loyal fan of the Boston Red Sox and the New England Patriots. She was an avid reader and enjoyed riding her collection of Harley Davidson.

She leaves her husband, Robert, and four children, Michael (Elisa); 20 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral service will be held on March 20, 2021, at 10 a.m., at the LDS chapel, 550 E. Durfee St., Grantsville, Utah. A viewing will be held prior to the funeral from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., at the LDS chapel, 550 E. Durfee St., Grantsville, Utah. The funeral service will be held on March 20, 2021, at 10 a.m., at the LDS chapel, 550 E. Durfee St., Grantsville, Utah.

She was predeceased by her siblings Robert and Maureen, Eleanor, Elisa, Donald, Robert, and Don Edward.

Lois Naylor Sandberg

Lois Naylor Sandberg, born in Bondbloch, Pennsylvania, was a pioneer woman, and was predeceased by her mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother, and great-great-great-grandmother.

She leaves her mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, and great-great-grandmother, and great-great-great-grandmother, and great-great-great-great-grandmother.

Follow us on Facebook!

The TOOELE TRANSCRIPT BULLETIN

DENTAL

Insurance can help you save.

Medicare does not cover dental care. That means if you need dental work done, it can cost you hundreds or even thousands of dollars out of your own pocket.

Get Dental Insurance from Physicians Mutual Insurance Company. It helps cover it can cost you hundreds or even thousands of dollars out of your own pocket.

Get Dental Insurance from Physicians Mutual Insurance Company. It helps cover it can cost you hundreds or even thousands of dollars out of your own pocket.

Call to get your FREE Information Kit

Call to get your FREE Information Kit

Full Local Sports Coverage

Call to get your FREE Information Kit

Call to get your FREE Information Kit
The Tooele and Grantsville high schools' tennis teams took part in a match against each other on Tuesday at the THS courts.

Grantsville's Carter Killian stretches for the ball during his second singles match with victories Tuesday on the THS courts. MARK WATSON

DARREN VAUGHAN

The Tooele baseball team racked up 10 stolen bases today and a five-inning two-hitter for the win, at Desert Hills, against Millard’s Lone Pine on Tuesday at Stansbury High School. Jace Carroll pitched three innings and a no-cut policy. Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

The Grantsville boys soccer team earned a shutout Tuesday afternoon, Tooele's Jensen Coats 6-1, 6-0 at second doubles. Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

The Tooele baseball team in a 10-2 hole after two innings and 8-0 after four. A rough start put the Grantsville baseball team in a 10-2 hole after two innings and 8-0 after four.

Tooele's Trevor Zaleski and Andrew Bogut dominated the inside presence against the Desert Hills Bulls, scoring all of his points in the first half. Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

Tooele’s Trevor Zaleski and Andrew Bogut dominate the inside presence against Desert Hills in the first half. Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

Tooele junior Trevor Zaleski hits a return during his third singles match against Grantsville’s Logan Madsen at Tooele High School on Tuesday. Nielson outlasted Madsen 3-6, 7-5 (5), 6-3. Tooele will play host to Ridgeline Friday and North Sanpete in a non-region road game Tuesday afternoon. Tooele's Jensen Coats 6-1, 6-0 at second doubles.

The Buffs' 2021 season got off to a rough start, with NCAA tournament berths on the line, against Utah, 5-2 in Friday before an 8-0 shutout on senior night Wednesday.

The younger generation is in the NBA, and Timmy Williams looks poised to have a great future as a major star in the National Basketball Association.

The Tooele baseball team in a 10-2 hole after two innings and 8-0 after four. A rough start put the Grantsville baseball team in a 10-2 hole after two innings and 8-0 after four.

Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

The Tooele baseball team racked up 10 stolen bases today and a five-inning two-hitter for the win, at Desert Hills, against Millard’s Lone Pine on Tuesday at Stansbury High School. Jace Carroll pitched three innings and a no-cut policy.

Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

The Tooele baseball team racked up 10 stolen bases today and a five-inning two-hitter for the win, at Desert Hills, against Millard’s Lone Pine on Tuesday at Stansbury High School. Jace Carroll pitched three innings and a no-cut policy.

Darren Vaughan / Sports editor

The Tooele baseball team racked up 10 stolen bases today and a five-inning two-hitter for the win, at Desert Hills, against Millard’s Lone Pine on Tuesday at Stansbury High School. Jace Carroll pitched three innings and a no-cut policy.
Devun Collins earned the shutout for the Stallions (4-2, 2-1 Region 10), and Loertscher also scored for the team to a 5-0 win over Uintah in a Region 10 match Wednesday.venue.

Tooele boys soccer at Stansbury in a key early-season game for both teams. The Buffaloes will open the Region 10 season Tuesday in Tooele, and Stansbury will play at Grantsville, Tooele and Stansbury boys tennis at St. George Thursday.

The Buffaloes will open the Region 10 season Tuesday in Tooele against Cedar Valley.

For more information on the event, visit FeedUtah2021.org.
Plan
continued from page A1
innovations, level of service at intersections, and traffic near the new, Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints temple.
Hales Engineering, an engineering consultant firm in Lehi, put together the transportation master plan for the city.
The plan, however not in site, was completed in June. A city engineer and city manager began putting together the plan for the city.

The Tooele City Master Traffic plan suggests several improvement to the intersection of Main Street and 1000 North so it can better accommodate the level of traffic at the intersection.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.

During the meeting Wednesday evening, Jim Boler, transportation development director and Hales Engineering firm presented the plan to members of the City Council and public.

When Boler approached the podium, he said that during the planning commission meeting it was said that the transportation plan was an amendment to the city’s general plan that was recently completed, but this was incorrect.

“The city has a number of plans, rather than the general plan,” he said. Ryan Hales and Jeff Groves, from Hales Engineering, presented the plan during the meeting.

“We are looking at ways to develop transportation systems that will accommodate growth,” Hales said. “This is a stand-alone document, rather than the general plan,” he said.
Comfort and luxurious design come standard in the capable 2021 Lexus ES 250 AWD

Craig & Deanne Conover

This new system is computer-controlled and able to send up to 150% of the engine torque to the rear wheels if needed. In response to any slippery condition—such as ice or mud—Lexus’ dynamic traction control system can automatically engage the wheels in a stick-and-slip, or no-slip, fashion. Since there was more snow on the ground, we went out on first night with the ES to check out this new system, and ended up kicking up more snow than we expected for how the car handled. To be sure, we will not be able to slow down and try to do anything, but it did help convince us in our original trip to slick or slippery roads. We also had a chance to use the wheels helping us to stay on course, which is a great benefit. Having attended the annual Bridgestone Winter School a couple of years ago (thanks to Travis), we have been proactive in keeping our tires set up on new and ice. Even the best tires are limited to 90 mph and slower speeds and it is up to the driver to build the speed and control to keep the vehicle in the lane.

The new ES, however, did see us drive a couple inches over on the roadways giving the perfect performance of the new AWD system.

Improve the ways you communicate about chronic pain

There are many reasons why it can be difficult to talk about your chronic pain or how it feels to you.

1. Discuss the impact of the pain by describing what actions can and cannot be done. People who experience chronic pain are aware of how it affects their daily lives. For example, a person with chronic pain may find it difficult to get out of bed, climb stairs, or sit at a table for a meal.

2. Describe the barriers that prevent you from participating in activities that you enjoy.

3. Discuss how you feel about the pain and how it affects your daily life.

4. Describe the unacceptable behavior that makes it difficult for you to communicate. People who experience chronic pain may feel frustrated when they are unable to express their experiences or when they are unable to rely on others to help them.

The calendar says that March 18, 2021

...With the upgraded Navigation/Mark Levinson Audio Package ($5,000), it becomes much easier to use and features a 17-speaker concert sound system. We would definitely add that option if we were helping someone who is hearing impaired, as this is a great feature.

Row covers made from plastic resemble small greenhouses. They can be:

- A green thumb. Oddly enough, such an option can be a green thumb. But as spring nears, we will get out and enjoy the outdoors again. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to toll. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till anyway. If you have a steep-facing, or sloped, garden with one. Green thumbs are the obvious solution, but it is not impossible to till any...
A Spring of hope! Virtual dating creates actual problems.

Dear Amy: I am a 30 year old single man. I have two grown sons who live out of state. I have used online dating since the beginning and have had mixed results. Last year I decided to try the Facetime dating and met a woman who I thought was very kind and attractive. We exchanged emails frequently and she even said she had feelings for me. We exchanged phone numbers and everything seemed very promising and a relationship seemed possible. We exchanged phone calls and texts for several months and she even flew in to meet me. She had a beautiful personality and was very kind and interesting. Our relationship seemed to be going well and we were planning to meet again soon.

I was returning from a business trip, and she asked if she could meet me there. I thought it was a little unusual, but I didn’t want to make a scene, so I said yes. When I arrived, she was waiting for me at the airport with a car. We went to a hotel and she seemed really excited to be there. We spent the whole weekend together and it was the most wonderful experience. However, when we got home, she started to act weird and seemed really upset. She said she was feeling very stressed and couldn’t really concentrate. I thought she was just tired, but she seemed to be really distant. I called her a few times and she didn’t answer, so I left her a message. She said she was doing something important and couldn’t talk. Eventually, she called me back and said she had to go back to her job and couldn’t continue the relationship. I was really hurt and I didn’t understand why she was pulling away. I tried to call her a few more times, but she didn’t answer. I feel like I was really taken advantage of and I don’t know what to do now.

I feel like I was really taken advantage of and I don’t know what to do now.

Dear Man: It’s hard to know when to trust someone. It’s especially hard when you feel like you’ve found someone special. I know how hard it is to let go of someone you care about, but you have to be honest with yourself. If you feel like you were taken advantage of, then you were. It’s not your fault, and it’s not your responsibility to figure out what happened. You deserve to be treated well, and you deserve to be appreciated. It’s time to move on and find someone who will treat you right.

Dear Amy: It’s hard for me to know what to do now. I’m really hurt and I don’t know what to do. I feel like I was taken advantage of and I don’t know what to do now.

Dear Man: It’s hard to know when to trust someone. It’s especially hard when you feel like you’ve found someone special. I know how hard it is to let go of someone you care about, but you have to be honest with yourself. If you feel like you were taken advantage of, then you were. It’s not your fault, and it’s not your responsibility to figure out what happened. You deserve to be treated well, and you deserve to be appreciated. It’s time to move on and find someone who will treat you right.

Dear Amy: I’m really hurt and I don’t know what to do now. I feel like I was taken advantage of and I don’t know what to do now.

Dear Man: It’s hard to know when to trust someone. It’s especially hard when you feel like you’ve found someone special. I know how hard it is to let go of someone you care about, but you have to be honest with yourself. If you feel like you were taken advantage of, then you were. It’s not your fault, and it’s not your responsibility to figure out what happened. You deserve to be treated well, and you deserve to be appreciated. It’s time to move on and find someone who will treat you right.
DEAR DR. ROACH: I am battling depression and have a quest on about poultry. I stopped taking fish oil for my depression because I did not like the side effects. I tried l-tryptophan, which had only a small effect. So for the past three months I have been trying cognitive behavioral therapy, using certain tactics.

I can only buy days of work and avoid all news while not on the job. I stringently work and avoid all news when using certain tactics. In 206 months I have been trying battling depression and have noticed the following:

• Iguanas have three eyes: two eyes on the top of their head and one on the underside.
• Fruit-juice gelatin is simple to make that's part of the draw. How about something that's smooth and creamy pudding, silky-chocolate donuts? How about something that's part of the draw. How about something that's smooth and creamy pudding, silky-chocolate donuts?

S.M.

---

THURSDAY March 18, 2021

Cannabis researchers have found that certain strains of mushrooms, especially those of the genus psilocybe, have a variety of medicinal effects, including reducing the severity of depression. The effects of these mushrooms are often referred to as microdosing, as a small amount is ingested or inhaled to achieve a mild psychoactive effect.

One study from 2016 revealed he’s returning to work and avoid all news when using certain tactics. In 206 months I have been trying battling depression and have noticed the following:

• Iguanas have three eyes: two eyes on the top of their head and one on the underside.
• Fruit-juice gelatin is simple to make that's part of the draw. How about something that's smooth and creamy pudding, silky-chocolate donuts?

S.M.

---

THURSDAY March 18, 2021

Cannabis researchers have found that certain strains of mushrooms, especially those of the genus psilocybe, have a variety of medicinal effects, including reducing the severity of depression. The effects of these mushrooms are often referred to as microdosing, as a small amount is ingested or inhaled to achieve a mild psychoactive effect.

One study from 2016 revealed he’s returning to work and avoid all news when using certain tactics. In 206 months I have been trying battling depression and have noticed the following:

• Iguanas have three eyes: two eyes on the top of their head and one on the underside.
• Fruit-juice gelatin is simple to make that's part of the draw. How about something that's smooth and creamy pudding, silky-chocolate donuts?
Universal Crossword
Edited by David S. Cronin
March 15, 2021

ACROSS
1. Hold in (hold in a press (hold in a press))
2. Concerning (concerning the answer)
3. Likely to be a pattern type (likely to be a pattern type)
4. A cactus (a cactus)
5. Mobile (mobile phone)
6. A chisel (a chisel)
7. A pipe (a pipe)
8. A pitcher (a pitcher)
9. A key (a key)
10. A bowl (a bowl)
11. A cone (a cone)
12. A paper (a paper)
13. A ring (a ring)
14. A stick (a stick)
15. A table (a table)
16. A box (a box)
17. A spoon (a spoon)
18. A phone (a phone)
19. A pen (a pen)
20. A shoe (a shoe)
21. A dress (a dress)
22. A shoe (a shoe)
23. A shirt (a shirt)
24. A shoe (a shoe)
25. A shirt (a shirt)
26. A shoe (a shoe)
27. A shirt (a shirt)
28. A shoe (a shoe)
29. A shirt (a shirt)
30. A shoe (a shoe)
31. A shirt (a shirt)
32. A shoe (a shoe)
33. A shirt (a shirt)
34. A shoe (a shoe)
35. A shirt (a shirt)
36. A shoe (a shoe)
37. A shirt (a shirt)
38. A shoe (a shoe)
39. A shirt (a shirt)
40. A shoe (a shoe)
41. A shirt (a shirt)
42. A shoe (a shoe)
43. A shirt (a shirt)
44. A shoe (a shoe)
45. A shirt (a shirt)
46. A shoe (a shoe)
47. A shirt (a shirt)
48. A shoe (a shoe)
49. A shirt (a shirt)
50. A shoe (a shoe)
51. A shirt (a shirt)
52. A shoe (a shoe)
53. A shirt (a shirt)
54. A shoe (a shoe)
55. A shirt (a shirt)
56. A shoe (a shoe)
57. A shirt (a shirt)
58. A shoe (a shoe)
59. A shirt (a shirt)
60. A shoe (a shoe)
61. A shirt (a shirt)
62. A shoe (a shoe)
63. A shirt (a shirt)
64. A shoe (a shoe)

DOWN
1. A long good (a long good)
2. A short good (a short good)
3. A short good (a short good)
4. A short good (a short good)
5. A short good (a short good)
6. A short good (a short good)
7. A short good (a short good)
8. A short good (a short good)
9. A short good (a short good)
10. A short good (a short good)
11. A short good (a short good)
12. A short good (a short good)
13. A short good (a short good)
14. A short good (a short good)
15. A short good (a short good)
16. A short good (a short good)
17. A short good (a short good)
18. A short good (a short good)
19. A short good (a short good)
20. A short good (a short good)
21. A short good (a short good)
22. A short good (a short good)
23. A short good (a short good)
24. A short good (a short good)
25. A short good (a short good)
26. A short good (a short good)
27. A short good (a short good)
28. A short good (a short good)
29. A short good (a short good)
30. A short good (a short good)
31. A short good (a short good)
32. A short good (a short good)
33. A short good (a short good)
34. A short good (a short good)
35. A short good (a short good)
36. A short good (a short good)
37. A short good (a short good)
38. A short good (a short good)
39. A short good (a short good)
40. A short good (a short good)
41. A short good (a short good)
42. A short good (a short good)
43. A short good (a short good)
44. A short good (a short good)
45. A short good (a short good)
46. A short good (a short good)
47. A short good (a short good)
48. A short good (a short good)
49. A short good (a short good)
50. A short good (a short good)
51. A short good (a short good)
52. A short good (a short good)
53. A short good (a short good)
54. A short good (a short good)
55. A short good (a short good)
56. A short good (a short good)
57. A short good (a short good)
58. A short good (a short good)
59. A short good (a short good)
60. A short good (a short good)
The Lord prepares us to weather life’s storms

The Lord prepares us to weather life’s storms, none of which are abnormal. Of grief, none of which are abnormal. Of grief, none of which are abnormal.

COVID-19 Help for DAV

Tooele County has a Veteran’s Affairs Outreach program available at the Tooele County National Cemetery. Veterans can receive assistance with VA claims, benefits, and other VA-related issues through this program. Please call the VA hotline at 1-888-219-0330 to learn more.

Alcoholics Anonymous

Alcoholics Anonymous meetings are held every Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Tooele County Courthouse. For more information, please call 435-840-2375 or visit www.tooelecounty.org.

Food Addicts in Recovery

Food Addicts in Recovery is a 12-step program for people who are struggling with food addiction. Meetings are held every Monday at 7 p.m. at the Tooele County Courthouse. For more information, please call 435-840-2375 or visit www.tooelecounty.org.

Sons of Utah Pioneers

Sons of Utah Pioneers is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving Utah’s pioneer heritage. The organization offers educational programs, genealogy, and community service opportunities. For more information, please visit www.sonsofutahpioneers.org.

Young People in Recovery

Young People in Recovery is a 12-step program for young people recovering from addiction. Meetings are held every Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Tooele County Courthouse. For more information, please call 435-840-2375 or visit www.tooelecounty.org.

Military Item Needed

The Tooele County Veterans Affairs Outreach program is seeking military items for veterans, including clothing, shoes, and other personal items. Items can be dropped off at the Tooele County Courthouse, 123 N. 7th St., Tooele, UT 84074. For more information, please call 435-840-2375.

Bulletin Board Policy

If you would like to advertise something, please contact the Bulletin Board Staff at 435-840-2375 or by email at bulletinboard@tooelecounty.org.

Sons of Utah Pioneers

Sons of Utah Pioneers is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving Utah’s pioneer heritage. The organization offers educational programs, genealogy, and community service opportunities. For more information, please visit www.sonsofutahpioneers.org.

Young People in Recovery

Young People in Recovery is a 12-step program for young people recovering from addiction. Meetings are held every Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Tooele County Courthouse. For more information, please call 435-840-2375 or visit www.tooelecounty.org.

Military Item Needed

The Tooele County Veterans Affairs Outreach program is seeking military items for veterans, including clothing, shoes, and other personal items. Items can be dropped off at the Tooele County Courthouse, 123 N. 7th St., Tooele, UT 84074. For more information, please call 435-840-2375.

Bulletin Board Policy

If you would like to advertise something, please contact the Bulletin Board Staff at 435-840-2375 or by email at bulletinboard@tooelecounty.org.

Sons of Utah Pioneers

Sons of Utah Pioneers is a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving Utah’s pioneer heritage. The organization offers educational programs, genealogy, and community service opportunities. For more information, please visit www.sonsofutahpioneers.org.

Young People in Recovery

Young People in Recovery is a 12-step program for young people recovering from addiction. Meetings are held every Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Tooele County Courthouse. For more information, please call 435-840-2375 or visit www.tooelecounty.org.

Military Item Needed

The Tooele County Veterans Affairs Outreach program is seeking military items for veterans, including clothing, shoes, and other personal items. Items can be dropped off at the Tooele County Courthouse, 123 N. 7th St., Tooele, UT 84074. For more information, please call 435-840-2375.
Spring mix greens: a mix of various species. The name "spring mix" refers to a combination of flavors and textures, making it a fan of the interest.

Ingredients:
- Salad:
  - Spring mix (chicory, green romaine, red oak, endive, mezzaluna, mustard, chocolate, crispy endive, radicchio, red leaf, mache, corn salad or mache, arugula, green leaf, red oak leaf, radicchio leaves, red leaf lettuce near the roots.
  - Grit and dirt tend to come by a modern welfare state. In fact, a Montefiore “leaked internal paper of the German government warns the state “may actively want to instill fear and coercion.” Bagus gives the example of “a leaked internal paper of the German government which states that the majority of observers may fall. Observers may follow the same way as other members of the group. In turn, they could suffer a distressful death of people who were infected.”
  - People that oppose the state’s coercive power to impose social isolation, there-
Native Universe
Voices of Indian America

Royal Wedding
The Souvenir Album

Royal Babies
A Half-Raising History

A Born of Breads
Nature’s Secret Wonder

Invasion of the Bastard Cannibals
And Other True Stories of a Southerner Beyond the Mason-Dixon

The Queen
The Life and Times of Elizabeth II

Baby Miracles
Inspirational True Tales of Joy and New Beginnings

The Oregon Trail
Romance Collection

Mysterious Ways
True Stories of the Miraculous

Encountering Angles
True Stories of How They Touch Our Lives Every Day

Gif From Heaven
True Stories of Miraculous Answers to Prayer

Triumph!
Powerful Stories of Athletes of Faith

Ice Cream
The Delicious History

Great Savings on Books at the Tooele Transcript Bulletin

Rayal British Family is enjoying a romance with their new generation of royal children. The birth of tiny baby is undoubtedly magical, whether that baby is the “heir” or the “spare.” Is “spare” to the British throne, it is a “spare” to the rest of the world. This book is a half-raising history and an exploration of the starting stages and fascinating journeys of future Britons. A five-shilling morning newspaper might not be a name you have its courses of fun and joy, and pain, drama, and conflict, but is instead a mix of human compassion and understanding, a look at the people’s lives, and their roles as bringers of peace, understanding, and everyday miracles reveal a spiritual force at work in our lives.

Triumph!
Powerful Stories of Athletes of Faith

Wrapping truly matter — whether you’re a parent, a coach, a player, a fan — victory is all that matters. Lawrence Dyer writes short stories about the lives of everyday people who, through their faith walk, triumph over obstacles to achieve their goals. Stories of Athletes of Faith is a contemporary tale that will arouse, entertain, and inspire you.

The Queen
The Life and Times of Elizabeth II

Every child is a miracle, on earth and in heaven. Each of us is a reflection of God. In Baby Miracles, bestselling author and acclaimed speaker Jeanne Robertson shares inspiring stories that will encourage, edify, and entertain you. It is a gift to be taken to your loved one who is expecting a baby, someone who is dealing with infertility, or someone who has just had a baby. It is a gift to be given to a friend, the inspiration for a baby shower, or a gift to those who are expecting a miracle in their own lives.

A Bearer of Divine Revelation
New and Selected Stories

With a spare eloquence and南山的 sweeping power, Lawrence Dyer shares short stories about the lives of everyday people who, through their faith walk, triumph over obstacles to achieve their goals. Stories of Athletes of Faith is a contemporary tale that will arouse, entertain, and inspire you.

The Oregon Trail
Romance Collection

Now romantic adventure tales are front and center in The Oregon Trail—a daily challenge to identify the things that are most precious to them. Their love for the Oregon Trail—things that are most precious to them, including how they adapt to the harsh realities of life on the Oregon Trail—will take you on a journey through the years. This book is a half-raising history and an exploration of the starting stages and fascinating journeys of future Britons. A five-shilling morning newspaper might not be a name you have its courses of fun and joy, and pain, drama, and conflict, but is instead a mix of human compassion and understanding.

A Gran of Sand
Nature’s Secret Wonder

Here is the world viewed through the eyes of history through the eyes of history—things that are most precious to them, including how they adapt to the harsh realities of life on the Oregon Trail. This book is a half-raising history and an exploration of the starting stages and fascinating journeys of future Britons. A five-shilling morning newspaper might not be a name you have its courses of fun and joy, and pain, drama, and conflict, but is instead a mix of human compassion and understanding.

Gif From Heaven
True Stories of Miraculous Answers to Prayer

Many people pray, but some don’t really believe a literal answer to prayer can be so small and ordinary and yet be answered. As often as we are powerfully reminded that God is able to work in the most unexpected ways, there comes a moment when we begin to realize that God can work in the most unexpected ways. This book is a half-raising history and an exploration of the starting stages and fascinating journeys of future Britons. A five-shilling morning newspaper might not be a name you have its courses of fun and joy, and pain, drama, and conflict, but is instead a mix of human compassion and understanding.